Dear sir [redacted]

The names of the four games will not be communicated at this time. The Gaming Authority will enter into contact with the four game providers that have been found to violate the law. The Gaming Authority now wants to first clarify the market by promoting the standard. In the absence of behavioral change, the Gaming Authority can ultimately proceed to take enforcement measures.

I hope that I have informed you sufficiently.

Kind regards,

Onderwerp: Vice On Loot Box Study

Hello,

My name is [redacted] I'm a contributing editor at Vice Motherboard.

I'm reading your studies and press release about the loot boxes found in violation of the Wet op de kansspelen. I'd love to talk to someone about this if I could.

I'm primarily interested in knowing which 10 games were studied and which four were found in violation. What is the recourse should these companies fail to comply?

Best,

[redacted]
